

On The Road To Emmaus

Here are some quotes on prayer by Charles Spurgeon for your consideration.

Prayer is the true gauge of spiritual health.

We grow in Christlikeness, in private prayer.

A Christian's vigor, happiness, growth and usefulness—all depend on prayer.

Prayer is the autograph of the Holy Spirit upon the renewed heart.

I would rather teach one man to pray—than ten men to preach.

Nine times out of ten, spiritual declension from God begins in the neglect of private prayer.

If any of you should ask me for the epitome of the Christian life, I would say that it is in one word—prayer.

So in your daily walk on this road of life, what priority does prayer have in your life?
