

On The Road To Emmaus

As we walk on this road of life we can find ourselves separated from other Christian brothers and sisters that we love. This separation can come through no fault of our own. An example of this is the current pandemic that we are in. We are told that we must have social distance. We cannot gather together because we put not only our lives in danger but other innocent lives in danger as well.

So in our social distancing we try to substitute digital ways of getting together. We try Skype, Facetime and other social media but they are hollow and they seem to only increase the desire to get together rather than providing the satisfaction promised.

It seems that God is breaking down our idols and destroying them through this plague. The idol of security that is grounded both in family and other human beings. The idol of economic security grounded in the dollar and the goods of this world

Remember what we have been told: "No one can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and money. 25 "Therefore I tell you, do not be anxious about your life,...." Matthew 6:24-25 (ESV) "... the love of many will grow cold." Matthew 24:12 (ESV)

As we are walking together with Jesus on the road that He has given us, remember what the psalmist has said: "In return for my love they accuse me, but I give myself to prayer." (Ps 109:4 ESV). Jesus will answer our prayer, He will keep us. Is God alone enough for you?
